Hillsboro braves are spoiling for a fight with the bloody Modocs

Marion County's share of the State tax has been paid over to the Treasurer It amounted to $21,92.

Our Hillsboro correspondent says measles and epizootic are again in full blast in Washington county

There is only one station agent on the railroad between Portland and St Joe, and it is said he has the measles

They charge stage passengers two bits a drink at LaGrande and permanent citizens only twelve and one half cents

Hon George K Shiel, ex-member of Congress from this State is lying ill at his brother s residence in Walla Walla

The friends of Rev G W Adams of LaGrande gave him a surprise the other day, and left him valuables to the amount of $112

The next thing is to be a newspaper at Hillsboro devoted to the interests of Washington county, and Republican in politics

A lumber yard is to be started at Hillsboro, as it is expected large quantities of material will be used there the coming summer in building

The little steamer Onward is still plowing the raging waters of the Tualatin for the benefit of the Washington county farmers and her owners

Superintendent Odeneal who has been on a flying visit to the Siletz, reports that the Yaquina war had entirely "fizzled out" So we are not to have a double fight.

The Methodist Church at Empire City is about to be sold for debt There are but two members in the place according to the Advocate and they are not full handed The church owes $700

Mr R McKenzie a thorough bred Scotchman, living near Summerville Union county has just received from England, through Corbitt & Macleay of Portland, a Scottish set of regular Highland Bag Pipes, manufactured by the Piper of the Queen

Trullinger's warehouse at Centerville, in Washington county, is finished, and about 200 tons of freight are stored there awaiting shipment Mr Trullinger has men enough employed clearing out Dairy creek to remove the obstructions in a short time, when small boats can reach Centerville and bring away the freight The navigation of the creek is now only a question of time

The following are the elective officers of La Grande Lodge I O O F, installed by D D G M, J P Clark N G, E S McComas, V G, R J Rogers R S, J A McWhirter, T, S B Williamson The appointed officers are, R S, J R Wilkinson, L S, G W Webb, R S, D S Kinsey, L S J T McComas, C, G E Wells, I G, M B Mallory, O G, B Grandy, L S S, J Wells, R S S, S Y Cook

Clark Smith writing to the Advocate says the chief feature of the Nehalem mountains is their coal The beds which have been definitely located and claimed are in the eastern range, but coal doubtless exists in the other ranges as they are of equal elevation, and are a continuation of the eastern The coal is remarkable for its fine, close texture and for the large per cent of bitumen which it contains Instead of being imbedded in rock or the usual coal measures it is found in a bluish sand which may account for the entire absence of fossil leaf impressions which are so abundant at the Cowlitz and other coaleries The seams are generally in a horizontal position and contain but a small per cent of impurity of sand, clay and pyrites

The following is told by the Statesman, and happened at Salem A young lawyer who had but just made his first appearance before the Supreme Court, was at the dinner table yesterday at Chemeketa He had waited some time for the attention of a waiter, and was getting wolfish Finally, seeing an apparently well fed person coming down the hall, he turned upon him sharply with, 'Waiter! bring me a bill of fare and a napkin!' 'Sir?' said the apparently well fed person It wasn't a waiter's style of saying 'sir,' and the young lawyer looked up again and was confounded to discover that the apparently well fed gentleman was one of the best looking Judges of the Honorable Supreme Court The young lawyer's partner will attend to the rest of the firm's business at the next term of the Court

The Statesman of Thursday says 'Superintendent Odeneal arrived home yesterday from a visit to the Siletz reservation and from him we learn that the Indians are all quiet and peaceable, though when he arrived at the Agency he found them somewhat excited about what to them seemed preparations for war on the part of the whites at the bay They were puzzled to know what was meant by building fortifications After being made to understand that these warlike preparations were in anticipation of an Indian outbreak, they seemed very much surprised, and insisted that there was no foundation for such supposition—using many arguments, and some very good ones, to show how foolish it would be for them to think of making war upon the whites with their remnant of able bodied men, especially as nearly all their people capable of bearing arms were young men under thirty years of age, who having resided seventeen years on the reserve tion, had no other home and knew but little of any other country had no experience in fighting, and had so long been accustomed to the pursuits of civilized life that they could not live in the mountains upon roots and game, as their fathers used to live when engaged in war Besides all this, many of them had comfortable homes, and wagons, teams, harness and other property which they would have to leave behind should they go to war Their women and children would have to be deserted and left to provide for themselves They said that though their grievances were ever so great they could not afford to attempt to right them by going to war They declared that they entertained no unfriendly feelings toward the whites and to prove this and quiet all apprehensions they voluntarily gave up their arms when requested to do so' It appears that one California Jack is accused of burning Sawtelle's house but the evidence against him is circumstantial The Indians appear anxious to have the party who may be guilty brought to justice

REMEDY FOR SCALDS AND BURNS—A correspondent writes to inform us that the readiest and most useful remedy for scalds and burns is an embrocation of lime water and linseed oil These simple agents combined form a thick cream like substance, which effectually excludes the air from the injured parts and allays the inflammation almost instantly He mentions a case where a child fell backward into a bathtub of boiling water and was nearly flayed from her neck to below her hips Her agonies were indescribable, but her clothing being gently removed and the lime and oil preparation thickly spread over the injured surface, she was sound asleep in five minutes Subsequently the parts were carefully washed with warm milk and water three times a day, the oil dressing renewed, and the little patient rapidly recovered Though all the scalded skin came off she did not have a scar This remedy leaves no hard coat to dry on the sores, but softens the parts and aids nature to repair the injury in the readiest and most expeditious manner The mixture may be procured in the drug stores but if not thus accessible, slake a lump of quick lime in water, and as soon as the water is clear, mix it with the oil and shake well If the case is urgent, use boiling water over the lime, and it will become clear in five minutes The preparation may be kept ready bottled in the house, and it will be as good when six months old as when first made —N Y Sun

Josh Billings says "Whenever I find a real handsome woman engaged in wimmin's rights bizziness, then I am going to take my hat under my arm and jine the procession"

THE TERRITORIES

Large quantities of flour are being stored at Walla Walla

Another fine brick residence has just been completed at Walla Walla

A gentleman at Walla Walla is going into the artesian well boring business

N L Yesler Esq of Seattle pays $1 2 6 taxes a year on real and personal property

Thursday of last week was quite warm at Walla Walla, the thermometer standing above 60 degs

Corinne, Utah, is obtaining agricultural prominence by raising seven candidates for Governor—all beats

A bill giving to Idaho county a portion of Nez Perce has passed both branches of the Idaho Legislature

The people of Wyoming can t make up their minds as to whether or no they will become a part of Colorado

C P Stone, Esq, has presented the Seattle Library with the new American Cyclopedia in 26 volumes, worth $175

During 1872 in Salt Lake City, 1 491 persons were arrested by the police, all of which seems unsaintly, to say the least

Assessments of 60 per cent on the capital stock of the Puget Sound Telegraph Company, amounting to $11 580, have been made and promptly met

One of the young hoodlums who despoiled the Olympia schoolhouse is said to have a fiery red head That should throw some light on the subject

Frank Lvorra who lives about five miles above Lewiston, says he saw, during the warm rain this week, millions of young crickets on the snow They had just been hatched out, and were jumping about like so many flies, which they resembled in size and color

Dr W B Jones, of West Paradise Valley, Idaho, reports everything in fine condition in the valley, and not a hoof of stock has been lost since the advent of winter from poverty There is no snow there at present, and everything is in a forward manner among the farmers.

The Victoria Colonist has this "The three men who left Esquimalt for the American shore several days ago to bring back deserters from H. M ships were met at the beach by a tall son of Brother Jonathan, who, armed with a six shooter, warned the Britishers off, and they "off'd."

This is the poetic manner in which the local of the Corinne Reporter tells his readers that it is somewhat foggy "Murky clouds, accompanied by a heavy fog, have hung all day around the gray peaks of the adjacent mountains, casting a shadow of gloom over the whole valley beneath."

The Union says petitions are being circulated and extensively signed by the people of Walla Walla valley, addressed to the Hon S Garfielde and Senator Corbett, asking that they use their influence against the attempt that is being made to secure the timber land in the Blue Mountains by a corporation

The Methodist Church in Olympia is just now the scene of a gracious revival in religion On Monday evening, the 16th, after the week of union prayer meetings, an attempt was made to get up a revival, which has resulted in entire success. A deep interest is manifested. Seventeen persons have already united with the Church On Sunday evening twenty-five penitents were kneeling at one time around the altar

A California paper describes the discovery of three villages of Zuni Indians, supposed to be the survivors of the ancient Aztecs. They dwell on the great trail from Fort Mohave, on the Colorado, to Albuquerque, on the Rio Grande, and are about a day's journey from the diamond fields They are about two thousand in number, and are very different from other tribes in looks bearing and pride of dress—a manifestly superior race

The Walla Walla Union says "Until the past season we have always had to purchase the greater portion of our bacon in the Wallamet Valley, but from this time on the order will be reversed We are informed that some of our heaviest bacon raisers intend to send theirs to Portland as soon as navigation opens Our people have just learned that instead of sending off wheat and importing bacon, it pays better to feed the grain to hogs and ship the bacon"

The house of a Mr. Conrad near Seattle was burglarized last Sunday night, but the thief did not get much of value In commenting on the burglary, the Seattle Dispatch says "We shall be accused of assailing the business interests of the town if we cast any reflections upon burglary as a vocation It is getting to be a leading business interest, and we are forced to admit, is quite as reputable as some other vocations which the community tolerate"

The town of Walla Walla will soon acquire notoriety as the scene of bold robberies From the papers of that place we learn that on the night of the 17th the store of J Bauer was entered by burglars and $1 650 taken from the safe The key to the safe was taken from the pants pocket of a brother of Mr Bauer, who was sleeping in the store at the time The brother was awakened but being a cripple the thief succeeded in getting away without leaving any traces by which he could be detected.

In Eastern Washington Territory the prospects for a good crop of grain never were better than at present The early sown grain got a good start in the fall, and has not been injured by cold weather There has been enough rain to thoroughly moisten the ground, and if there is no severe freezing, and there should continue a sufficiency of rain to keep the ground moist during the spring the yield must be a heavy one From present indications there will be a good opportunity to put in spring grain

A dispatch from Washington City, dated January 9th, says

The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, at its meeting this morning, discussed at considerable length the plan of operations to be adopted in conducting the Louisiana and Arkansas investigations The appointment of commissioners is one of the most difficult duties imposed upon the committee If they appoint men who are unknown to the public, the public will have no confidence in their report If they appoint men of national reputation, it is difficult to find those who will serve and who will not be charged with being prejudiced Again, no man who is fit to serve upon such a commission can be expected to do so without pay, and if the committee should vote to pay the commissioners a salary commensurate with the actual value of their services, the country will be likely to look upon it as an extravagant act The committee will probably decide to morrow morning upon the course, and may possibly hold the investigation here, sending for persons and papers Congressman Sheldon returned from New Orleans this morning, is in favor of an investigation by Congress to determine which of the rival parties actually constitutes the State government of Louisiana He says that the Senate investigation does not propose to settle that matter, and that affairs have become so mixed there that an investigation by a resolution of Congress can alone settle the difficulty,

Hiram Reese, a Pennsylvania man, eighty-six years old, lately walked twenty-two miles in six hours and a half on an empty stomach. That's what the report says, though who ever heard of an empty stomach twenty-two miles long?

WASHINGTON Jan 23 —In the House, the bill passed relieving, from taxation alcohol used for scientific purposes.

Stevenson offered a resolution reciting the allegation that members of the House have been interested in the Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad which had received a subsidy in lands and been managed by a Credit Mobilier and directing a select committee to investigate the matter, and report what members had been interested in the Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad

Randall wanted all subsidized railroads included

Stevenson said he would willingly do so but that he was afraid to load down the committee.

Randall thought differently, because it was pretty much the same class of bids in all of them Randall moved to include the Central Pacific Railroad

Stevenson consented, and the resolution as amended was adopted

House then went into Committee of the Whole and took up the Consular and Diplomatic appropriation bill.

From the Seat of War

YREKA Cal, Jan 23 —David Beam arrived here last night from the seat of war He was all through the fight and brings the following additional particulars On the bluff at the head of the lava bed, were found nine head of cattle recently slaughtered by the Indians. Proceeding a mile further, the forces formed a line of battle, both right and left extending in a semi circle three miles long from the lake, Col Perry on the right and Capt. Fairchild on the left Fairchild s Company rushed ahead of the line and got into a terrible rocky place, where several had to remain till night for a chance to get out. When they did their boots and clothes were torn to pieces, in getting over the rough lava and sharp rocks. The troops on the right made a connection with Bernard's command operating on the opposite side, and while doing so the Indians broke through the lines and proceeded down toward the lake where they pounced on Fairchild s men Near this point the Indians also came out for a field fight with Captain Burton's infantry, who charged on them, running them into the rocks. The wounded of Fairchild s company were taken to Fort Klamath It is thought Jerry Crooks is fatally wounded, having his thigh bone smashed to pieces. He had to ride twenty five miles bare back before reaching Bernard s camp George Roberts was able to walk around next morning but is mortally wounded The howitzers were packed on animals in sections and put together when needed, but it was too foggy to use them to advantage, only a few shells having been fired Toward evening after the fight, an Indian signal fire was seen between the troops and Wheaton's camp, which camp had been left with only ten men as a guard to the supplies and ammunition there Captain Kelly's Oregon volunteers being rear guard here, made a gallant fight, saving the artillery and wounded from being captured, and also preventing the Indians from taking the camp at headquarters General Wheaton and all his officers and men are spoken of in the highest praise for their gallantry. Col Perry, who was seriously wounded, has been taken to Camp Warner where his family resides.

Although the fog was unfavorable for an open fight it is believed that it saved many more from being killed and wounded, as the Indians could not see to shoot at long range from behind rocks or from the high bluffs surrounding On Sunday Beam with an escort of 25 Oregon Volunteers, left Van Bremer's to go to Bernard s camp with the horses belonging to Fairchild s company, and when within six miles of Lost River saw four of Jack's band on a scout It is feared that Capt Jack will make a raid on the Butte Creek settlement within forty miles of Yreka. The Indians captured seven guns and considerable ammunition There are at least 200 Indians in the field, and they are constantly drilled by leaders well acquainted with military tactics, especially ambushing

Capt Fairchild writes to E C DeWitt as follows The day was very unfavorable The fog was so dense we could not see fifty yards As we charged the Indians they could hear the commands of our officers and always tell where we were and we could not see them. The first we would know we would receive a deadly volley I have been in a great many close places but that beat anything I ever saw Our boys were in the hottest of the fight I am in hopes Gov. Booth will change his mind and let us raise some troops I think the officers believe Dorris and myself told them the facts about the Indians and their location. The regulars fought well, and charged stronghold after stronghold. The Indians would fire and fall back Col Green took more chances than any man I ever saw He walked the lines during the hottest of the fight and never took shelter or dodged. It looked like a miracle he escaped

YREKA, Jan 23,—John Hendricks arrived here this evening from the Yainax Reservation There were apprehensions at that place that the Indians would try to get away and join Captain Jack at headquarters Gen. Wheaton was preparing to build boats for the purpose of guarding the lake shore of the lava bed, and keep the Indians from coming there for water Otherwise the troops were lying quietly in camp

Some Things not Right

[illegible] truly [illegible] that if Governor Gibbs [illegible] United States Senator [illegible] the [illegible] matter [illegible] troubles that have arisen in the Republican party will [illegible] the [illegible] the party all [illegible] Mr Mitchell [illegible] the [illegible] Mr Mitchell received the nomination [illegible] Gov Gibbs not having [illegible] set up to disrupt the party rather than [illegible] the [illegible] candidate elected [illegible] the votes to the nominee and the party would have been saved from the disasters that [illegible] The leaders of the bolt were the men [illegible] from Multnomah county They had been the henchmen of Mr Mitchell for [illegible] They had performed his wishes in [illegible] scrambles for office and had been plastic clay in his skillful hands for all purposes of business and [illegible] for so long, they could not well refuse to do his bidding They bolted the will of the Republican party was overridden, and the party rent by dissensions that followed, divided into factions in every county in the State was supplanted by the Democracy When after the lapse of a series of years the party again had a prospect of success, the same person commenced scheming for the United States Senatorship again In 1866 he had succeeded, by uniting with the Democracy, in [illegible] ing to the Legislature from this county men who would break up the party rather than see his rival elected over him He resolved upon the same course again An alliance was immediately formed with the Democracy to beat the Republicans in the primaries With the assistance of Mr Holladay the owner of the Bulletin and the railways who regarded the election of Mr Mitchell as of immense value to him in a business way, he having divers jobs before Congress besides some in Oregon, this coalition was made a success so far as the primaries were concerned But in order to accomplish thus much when it was well known that three out of every four Republicans in the county, remembering the contest of 1866 were opposed to the election of Mr Mitchell the outrage had to be carried to such an extent that the perpetrators of it shrunk back appalled from facing the consequences of their own success They therefore threw overboard the men they had before agreed to send to the Legislature, and who were known to be of the same material as those who were used as instrument to disorganize the party in 1866, and chose in their stead candidates from among the comparatively small number of honorable and respectable citizens who favored Mr Mitchell's election So the county had men of fair standing in the Legislature, but they did not, in the choice of a Senator, truly represent the sentiment or carry into effect the wishes of one-fourth of the Republicans of this city and county.

We speak at present only of the means by which Mr. Mitchell secured in the Legislature the votes of this county for Senator That we speak the truth is a fact so well known here that few of his warmest friends have the hardihood to controvert it He was elected Senator For present purposes it is immaterial to inquire whether he will be able so far to break the chain that has so long bound him to the fortunes of Mr Holladay as to faithfully represent the State of Oregon in the Senate The securing of his election by such means as those above mentioned, could not but be disastrous to the party The sequel proved that those Republicans were right who feared that the effect of his election would be the same as was that of the troubles of 1866. In the June election, just previous to the Senatorial contest, the Republican vote of the State for Congressman was 13,167 In the Presidential election which followed close upon the heels of the Senatorial contest, the Republican vote was only 11 813 The falling off in November was nearly twice as great as the majority in June Had the Democracy polled within four hundred votes of their strength as shown in the June election, the State would have gone for Greeley

We do not refer to these facts from any wish to detract from Mr Mitchell's political character for, now that he is elected we wish he may be able to serve his State efficiently But the Bulletin, which is understood to be his organ, as it has been to some extent ever since Mr Holladay began to operate in Oregon politics is just now devoting column after column to the manufacturing of purely fictitious history against other Republicans of the State in order to remove the odium from him, and gratify the spleen of his editor who has a grievance to heal If our Senator elect takes this course to clear up his own record he must not complain if those Republican journals which do not recognize Mr Holladay's dictatorship in the party take the pains to set the matter right before the public by publishing the truth

A Washington dispatch says The State Historical Society of Wisconsin asks Congress to appropriate sufficient money to purchase certain original documents relating to the early French discoveries on the lakes and the Mississippi river never yet published The collection of these documents was begun when Gen Cass was United States Minister to France, by M Pierre Margry Previous to the time of Colbert the French Cabinet Ministers regarded all their official correspondence as private property and so many public documents of great importance were lost or preserved only by the families and descendants of those Ministers in France M Margry has continued to collect these documents, and has now nine volumes of manuscript, containing 900 pages Three of these relate to the discoveries of La Salle and his companions—Jontel Tonty Galinier and Dollier du Casson one to La Mothe Cadillac and the settlement of Detroit two to discoveries and explorations in the Rock Mountains in 1752, by De Niseville and the brothers Verandiere, one to Fort Du Quesne and Natchitoches, and two to the settlement of Louisiana M Margry has been unable to find a publisher for these valuable documents and now offers to print them himself and deliver 500 copies to the agent of the United States in Paris for twelve francs per volume The Wisconsin Historical Society asks that a sum sufficient to purchase these be appropriated and that they be divided among the principal libraries of the country

The New York Times says that by a morganatic marriage with an English woman known as Mrs Howard Louis Napoleon left a family for whom he provided amply while he held the reins of government

Five hundred miles of railway were built in Michigan during the year just ended

Three lads were yesterday arrested—[illegible] [illegible] on the streets of the city [illegible] intoxicated as to be unable to travel [illegible] in a drunken stupor The ages of these lads were [illegible] their [illegible] teen years They were taken to the City Jail and lumped into a cell with the other prisoners When they wake out of the stupor [illegible] they will find their [illegible] ation and [illegible]

[illegible] from the [illegible] legislation [illegible] to [illegible] to [illegible] form [illegible] and [illegible] information [illegible]

We are informed [illegible] the [illegible] which they became intoxicated If the person [illegible] to them should be proceeded against at once It is necessary to make an example [illegible] and now is as good a time as will ever come The law forbids the furnishing of intoxicating liquors to persons under eighteen years of age without the written consent of the parent or guardian and it is safe to say that no such consent can be had

Sure enough the article written by the editor of the Bulletin and published in the [illegible] Sound [illegible] which we mentioned yesterday was copied by the Bulletin according to the arrangement The Bulletin introduced the article with a flourish of trumpets in its praise The editor of the Bulletin learned that trick of the trade by writing the editorials for the Democratic Era and then praising their ability and deprecating their politics through the columns of the Republican paper he was conducting The patent medicine men can learn something in the way of advertising themselves from the editor of the Bulletin

The Board of Supervisors of San Francisco have unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that they are prepared to grant to the Central and Southern Pacific Railway Companies all necessary lands and facilities for bringing cars and ships together, on condition of the permanent abandonment of the Goat Island scheme and the establishment of the depots on Mission Bay They also propose, in the event of this arrangement being effected to make such modification in the streets as shall give greatest facilities to the Companies for the transacting of their business

The Augustan Age of Murder

Not a hundred years ago there was founded "The Hell Fire Club," having for its object the promotion of vice To England belongs the glory of its birth as to England belongs the later glory of originating a society for the suppression of virtue The club and society have secretly disappeared from the mother country to become the more firmly established in New York where an elective judiciary and ignorant, unprincipled juries lend themselves to the noble task of making republican institutions a synonym for everything that is vile We make this statement deliberately with the intention of proving it by the logic of events, taking for our premises the murders of the last three years, a list of which is appended as follows

Forty murders in 1870, sixteen Irish, ten Germans, ten American three English and one Norwegian Forty-five murders in 1871, twenty three Irish, nine Americans four English, four Germans, one Italian and one Swiss Fifty six murders in 1872, twenty Irish nineteen Americans eight Germans, three English two Swedes one Italian and one French Five more murders in 1871 than in 1870, eleven more murders in 1872 than in 1871—an increase of sixteen murders in two years If crime progresses in this frightful ratio, who, within many months will deserve to escape hanging? Is it not about time for those still alive, who neither aspire to murder nor be given in murder to inquire whether self preservation, which is supposed to be the first law of nature does not exact that more heroic treatment should be administered to artists in human butchery than now seems fashionable? Is it enough to mildly rail against total depravity in reading details of the very latest homicide with one eye while the other gazes complacently upon a cup of the very best coffee? When life has grown to be such a ghastly joke that people wake up in the morning and congratulate themselves upon not having had their throats cut from ear to ear by friends, bosom or otherwise is there not something rotten in the body politic? Does it not behoove us to seriously ask why this murderous orgy has been so long tolerated and what means shall be employed to bring it to an end? Would it not be well for those very estimable gentlemen, known as the Committee of Seventy, to whom we anxiously look for all good things, to set their ponderous intellects to work out our salvation ere the child of the period becomes so demoralized as to cry for blood as it now cries for soothing syrup? If the carnage do not cease

Give us this day our daily murder will be the popular form of prayer and that such a state of things should transpire under the reign of the "Seventy" ought to convince confiding citizens of the necessity of doubting even the divine right of this immaculate council Words mean but little after blows stabbing and shooting have set in and perhaps it would be well to tear a leaf out of California's history imitating in the civilized East the vigilance committee of the barbaric West When friends of a man murdered in the most shockingly brutal manner put so little faith in the ultimate triumph of justice as to lay a plot for the forcible removal and lynching of his murderer it is unwise to suggest that what roughs dare do to revenge a dead comrade respectable citizens ought to do to rescue law from the harpies now preying upon it at the expense of our good name and our depleted pockets —N Y Times

Here is an invention which doubtless makes the heart of Mr Bergh glad It is called the gyro pigeon, and its use is to be put up and set to gyrating in order that sportsmen may have an opportunity of exhibiting their skill in hitting things without inflicting pain The New York Times of the 10th inst has the following item in relation to the gyro bird

It is a mechanical bird to be used in shooting contests Yesterday, under the auspices of Mr Bergh a practical trial of the bird was made at Mineola Some difficulty was experienced from the frozen ground but the mechanism being once secured the birds flew away readily A scrub match of twenty five birds each was made between two of the reportorial corps, which resulted in a score of twelve to ten which considering the disadvantages under which they labored, was quite fair The steel birds, when flying presented the uncertain movements of a genuine pigeon When the bird was struck its direction was changed and it fell to the ground much the same as a live bird and when picked up showed distinctly the mark of every shot It was the general opinion that the gyro pigeon could in every way afford the pleasurable excitement of a shooting match without the brutality which attends the slaughter of live birds

A New Railroad Switch —This is a jolly sort of an idea The New York and New Haven Railroad Company have been experimenting with a new safety switch which is thus described The lever of the switch is enclosed in a small house or sentry box the door of which is locked When the switch man enters the house and opens the switch he thereby shuts the door of the house or box from which he cannot make his exit till by shutting the switch he thereby opens the door of the box If by chance a train comes along while the switch is open he must make his escape from the box to avoid the probability of being himself killed He cannot make his escape without shutting the switch Therefore every time a switchman opens a switch he is bound under penalty of death to have it closed before any train comes along One man can attend to only one switch

Protection to Emigrants

The bill introduced by Mr Conger of Michigan to protect immigrants from Europe against the wrongs they have received on ship board and after their arrival in the United States has stirred up the Emigrant Commission of New York city to a sense of their situation Conger's bill, if it becomes a law would take away their occupation This commission is a fat thing [illegible] control of the business of receiving and caring for [illegible] in Castle Garden would [illegible] patronage [illegible] outside [illegible] to a large amount so the Commissioners are making [illegible] the passage of the bill

We copy from a New York paper the following statement of facts in connection with the subject

First It is admitted that the New York State commissioners cannot afford the [illegible] greatly [illegible] whatever means of [illegible] ship [illegible] Complaints of bad food and rough treatment and of overcrowding have been made very often and testimony taken but the commissioners have found the case beyond their power and jurisdiction

Secondly It is admitted that as soon as the emigrant passes beyond the confines of Castle Garden he is beyond the jurisdiction of the commissioners And it is also a fact that nine tenths of the emigrants arriving at New York leave the jurisdiction of the Castle Garden commission within twenty four hours

Third It is also admitted that immigrants arrive in large numbers at Port Huron (10 000) at Baltimore and other ports where no State commission has been organized and where they have no protection whatever Nor does any one look after their interests at intermediate points like Buffalo, Detroit Chicago etc

Fourth Every immigrant landed at New York is taxed $1 50—the entire income of the Board of Immigration for the past year having been $640 000 This sum is expended for the benefit of the very few emigrants who are impecunious and who are compelled to remain at Ward's Island

Fifth The last New York Legislature made a very slight examination only into the affairs of the commission, and confined its examination exclusively to the commissioners themselves, and to Mr Casserly the superintendent The testimony, however was sufficient to induce the Legislature of last year that was not overmuch given to reform, to abolish the commission but the Governor pocketed the bill, and thus they were retained in office

Sixth The investigation showed that every part of the management was characterized by prodigality of expenditures and extreme carelessness if not criminality The following are a few of the facts elicited

Mr King a relative of Mr Tweed, was the "purchasing agent" for the commission until January 1, 1872 It was admitted that through false invoices and bills the commission lost $40,000 annually, yet no attempt was made to displace him until Tweed's influence had been destroyed, nor has there been made any attempt whatever to recover the money or to punish the swindler

Mr Casserly, the superintendent and a brother of Senator Casserly, testified that a few year since, when an attempt was made to place upon the statute book a law similar to Mr Conger's bill, Gen Hillyer was sent to Washington to defeat it The expense was only $6,000 The year before (1870) they spent $3 000 at Albany Their council were Patrick H Jones and Judge Waterbury Here are $9 000 of the poor immigrant's money expended—not for his benefit, but to secure immunity from supervision, and to rivet the chains upon him so that he may continue to be swindled

The commission issues licenses to runners to solicit passengers and to keepers of boarding houses, and a number of these are the filthiest holes in New York or anywhere Some of these men have been in prison and even in the penitentiary Nearly all of them keep places so vile that the stench, even on the sidewalks is intolerable and yet they are the men who have secured licenses to solicit passengers and to fleece the strangers whom they take in

Mr Nicholson one of the commissioners testified that he paid out $1,200 per year for "cigars and lunches" (?) for the commissioners and their friends Here is a petty system of swindling indulged in by the commissioners themselves On the one hand is the poor emigrant taxed $1 50 for landing, on the other are the commissioners wasting this money in cigars and liquors?—for "lunches is conveniently substituted

About $200,000 of the surplus fund was placed in the safe keeping of the Tammany Hall Savings Bank, and when Tammany bursted the bank suspended and the money was lost Why was this money when New York is full of responsible banks, placed in this particular bank? The commissioners have made no answer to this question, nor have they attempted to make good the money

The War of 1814 at Washington

A few years later (in 1826) another distinguished member of Congress from South Carolina General Hamilton, told me that the Republicans of that State, finding the party greatly discredited and in danger of disorganization under the odium of the restrictive system sent these three gifted young men to Congress in 1811 for the express purpose of declaring war with England as the only measure which would avert the impending danger A policy of this kind will be very apt to prevail in popular governments when a political party is in danger of losing its ascendency We are at this moment for a similar cause hovering on the verge of a war with Spain The capture of Washington and the destruction of the public buildings by a small hostile force took place about three months before my visit and were still the general topic of conversation Nothing could be more discreditable than the vandalism of the act, unless it be the total absence of resistance on our part of militia hastily called from their homes and wholly unused to active service There really seems however to be no reason why the British forces should have been allowed to advance with so little resistance, and to pursue their hasty retreat from Washington unmolested for a distance of fifty miles, through a country thoroughly alarmed Such was not the result on the very similar occasion, of which this day on which I write these sentences is the anniversary, (19th of April) at the opening of the Revolutionary war

A curious fact was stated in the report of the committee appointed to inquire into the causes of the capture of Washington Colonel George Minor with a regiment of Virginia militia seven hundred strong arrived at the city of Washington at twilight in the evening of the 23d of August He called upon the President who very properly referred him to the Secretary of War for orders The Secretary General Armstrong told him that he could not be furnished with arms that night and directed him to apply to Colonel Carberry the next morning, who had been charged by the commanding general, Winder to superintend the delivery of arms and ammunition The enemy were at this time landed and on the march to Washington Colonel Minor the next day, from early morning till late in the forenoon, sought Colonel Carberry diligently but he could not be found He had gone to his country seat the night before Colonel Minor rode to headquarters to get some new order from General Winder for arms and ammunition The arsenal was in the care of a young man, whose caution in dispensing the stores committed to him was worthy of Balaklava Although the officers of the regiment to expedite matters, counted out the flints delivered to them the youthful guardian of the ordnance insisted on counting them over again By this time Colonel Carberry had arrived from his Tusculum and detained the regiment until regular receipts could be signed Nothing superior to this has taken place in the Crimea Perhaps it is wisely intended by Providence that frequent constitutional government should throw unusual obstacles in the way of war It to the uncertainty caprice and party influences of popular governments should be added the irresponsible energy of despotic governments there would be no such thing as peace in the world

The incident just mentioned is in the printed report of the committee of inquiry I heard many anecdotes from witnesses and spectators which did not find their way into that document but I forbear to record them fears of the brave and follies of the wise as then currently related —Dr Mr [illegible] posthumous reminiscences [illegible] Old and New for January

Royalty on Breech Loaders

We find the following in the New York Times of January 10

Senator [illegible] introduced a bill to day authorizing the Secretary of War to pay Gen Benjamin S Roberts 50 cents as a royalty on each breech loading small arm that has been made by the Government at the public armories on the plan known as the Allin Springfield or ordnance gun since 1866 It also directs the payment of a royalty of 20 cents on each thousand metallic cartridges turned by machinery since August 1866 The condition of this payment is that Mr Roberts shall transfer to the United States all his rights under the patents covering these inventions The Allin or Springfield gun which takes its name from an employe in the Springfield Armory, was for several years the favorite of the Ordnance Bureau and a stock company called the Regulation Arms Company composed chiefly of ordnance and other officers of the army was formed for its manufacture The gun had little that was novel in its construction the most important devices being taken from other guns that competed for adoption It has now been substantially abandoned and the Ordnance Bureau is attempting to select another breech loading arm The Secretary of War in a report on the claims for royalty on inventions used in the Springfield musket, sent to the House to day says that 121 311 muskets have been altered on the Allin plan since the Winter of 1865 The Chief of Ordnance has repeatedly called the attention of Congress to the competing claims of patentees set up against this gun One suit is now pending, the Secretary says in the Court of Claims, another claimant has gone to Congress and other patentees are awaiting the decision of pending questions The most important claim is that arising out of the suit of James B Lly to restrain the commanding officer at the Springfield Armory from manufacturing any Springfield muskets The decision of the Court is that one of the features of the breech loading system adopted by the army is an infringement on Lly's patents A settlement with Lly's representatives he being dead, is, Gen Belknap thinks required by justice One dollar per gun is thought by the Department to be an adequate amount to divide among the several claimants, and of this 25 cents should be paid to Lly's representatives, in addition to the cost of his suit

A SAD SPECTACLE —A sad sigh[illegible] public are not often called upon t[illegible] seen in this city yesterday aftern[illegible] Yates and Corcoran arrested two [illegible] street near Main, who were so in[illegible] be scarcely able to stand alone [illegible] these boys were using the most fo[illegible] imprecations, and conducting th[illegible] disorderly manner They were [illegible] taken into custody and escorted [illegible] boys are aged respectively 12 and [illegible] of respect to their parents we suppre[illegible] of the arrested parties They obtai[illegible] with which they became drunk fr[illegible] the corner of Main and Front stre[illegible] son who sold these boys the liquor w[illegible] 17 years He was also arrested for [illegible] to minors under 18 years, and lodge[illegible] younger one of the boys arrested [illegible] tion it is stated, has not been [illegible] week and all efforts of the par[illegible] tain his whereabouts have be[illegible] This is certainly a picture over [illegible] angels might weep" These offen[illegible] offences committed, are of a class [illegible] yond the common law of the land to [illegible] cal reformation is a thing utterly i[illegible] The penalties inflicted, instead of [illegible] wholesome respect and fear of the l[illegible] der these youthful culprits more ab[illegible] dened and reckless Clearly the[illegible] which requires something more tha[illegible] hand of the law to effect a reform[illegible] form School properly conducted, is [illegible] stitution which offers a remedy. It [illegible] est best, most humane and only so[illegible] vexed question of, "What shall we [illegible] boys?" The case of these boys will [illegible] in the Police Court this morning

MORE CONCERNING THE MURDER —[illegible] couver correspondent we are indebte[illegible] lowing additional facts concerning t[illegible] of the body of Chas Nelson, suppos[illegible] dered The coroner who held the i[illegible] that he extracted fifteen large bucksh[illegible] son's body and was satisfied as ma[illegible] mained No valuables were foun[illegible] person. Upon repairing to the hous[illegible] he found everything in order, exce[illegible] which had evidently been hurriedly [illegible] valuable silver mounted Henry rif[illegible] ceased was known to have possessed [illegible] Strong suspicions rest upon parties [illegible] yet under arrest, and their names are [illegible] the present.

The following is the verdict of the [illegible] moned to hold an inquest over the re[illegible]

We, the jury, after being duly swor[illegible] to examine the body of deceased, and [illegible] one Charles Nelson, found by John [illegible] the 21st January, 1873 The jury f[illegible] came to his death by a gun shot from [illegible] an unknown person The shot was [illegible] the back, just under the left shoul[illegible] There were fifteen buck shot picke[illegible] under the left breast. BAD ECONOMY.—Economy is a [illegible] when judiciously practiced, but it som[illegible] pens that persons carry it to a penn[illegible] pound foolish extreme. Yesterday a [illegible] of this city had some heavy cases of dr[illegible] remove from one portion of the city t[illegible] The gentleman, to be economical and [illegible] curring unnecessary expense, as he the[illegible] sired to have all the goods hauled at on[illegible] were plenty of drays and trucks which [illegible] employ, but he chose to employ a sm[illegible] wagon, because the dray would cost [illegible] dollar and the express half that sum [illegible] all the cases on the express at one time[illegible] the boxes secure, he lashed them on [illegible] When the driver had passed several [illegible] had to cross a muddy stretch of road. [illegible] this, one of the largest boxes came [illegible] heavy lurches of the vehicle and rolle[illegible] the mud and water. Before the case [illegible] tricated its contents were well satu[illegible] water, so that it became necessary for [illegible] to be taken from the box and repacke[illegible] one The damage incurred would hav[illegible] half a dozen wagon loads. The most [illegible] plan to have been pursued in this ins[illegible] to employ several express wagons, or [illegible] one engaged to have made more than [illegible]

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS —The fact [illegible] several weeks since that an effort was [illegible] to organize a Lodge of the above O[illegible] city Several meetings were held by [illegible] the Order who reside in Portland, to c[illegible] prospects, and if indications were favo[illegible] project, to take preliminary steps towa[illegible] stitution of a Lodge A petition was [illegible] to the members of the Grand Lodge a[illegible] dispensation and charter to be grant[illegible] institution of a Lodge in Portland, wh[illegible] be known as Excelsior Lodge, No [illegible] The petition was signed by about for[illegible] a majority of whom are already mem[illegible] Order, and the remainder express a wi[illegible] become members. A few days ago a d[illegible] was received granting the institution o[illegible] On Monday evening next a Lodge will [illegible] tuted A charter and the Grand Cha[illegible] shortly expected to arrive from below [illegible] Lodge will soon thereafter be organize[illegible] and established on a permanent basis [illegible]

THE REFORM SCHOOL.—Under the [illegible] "A Much Needed Institution," the [illegible] says "Much has been well said a[illegible] concerning the necessity and advantag[illegible] form School in our midst for the benef[illegible] verse and idle youth. Nothing as y[illegible] know of has been done practically for [illegible] lishment The County Commissioners, [illegible] stand, are ready to give twenty five acr[illegible] near the city limits for such an institut[illegible] not let the city authorities appropriate [illegible] an amount equal to the value of the lan[illegible] erection of suitable buildings thereon [illegible] commencement of the enterprise? Self [illegible] commands some action on the part of t[illegible] once, and we know of nothing bette[illegible] joint action of the county and city."

WHAT NEXT.—The juvenile mind o[illegible] is continually in a state of ferment try[illegible] cover some specie of deviltry that wil[illegible] for the boys," but an annoyance to [illegible] people At one time it was toot ho[illegible] slings, next "devils' fiddle," and now [illegible] invention of the enemy of adults is to [illegible] and windows, with little balls of clay [illegible] teresting sport—to the boys only—is [illegible] principally by the young hoodlums in [illegible] ban districts of the city. Against wh[illegible] ject the balls are projected, they adhere [illegible] with considerable difficulty that they ar[illegible] after becoming dry and hard These [illegible] confer a favor by informing the public [illegible] be the next affliction.

CHINESE NEW YEAR —The Chinese [illegible] our community are making extensive p[illegible] to celebrate their New Year, which wi[illegible] next Monday, and continue through [illegible] and nights consecutively. Permission [illegible] bly be granted them by the Chief o[illegible] fire off as many bombs and crackers a[illegible] desire, and also to punish sensitive [illegible] in the way of gongs, drums and cymb[illegible] heart's content Our barbarous Amer[illegible] can never properly appreciate these hig[illegible] ed and refined customs of this an[illegible] It is hoped that daily contact and cons[illegible] ation with these people may at length [illegible] degraded natures up to the standard of t[illegible] ples of Confucius.

VIOLENT —The man Carroll, who wa[illegible] in this city several times on the acc[illegible] lent and half crazy conduct, and fina[illegible] the asylum, is reported to be the m[illegible] and intractable person confined in th[illegible] tion He is so turbulent that scarcely [illegible] can be done with him. FRIDAY MORNING JANUARY 24 1873

CITY.

A SAD SPECTACLE —A sad sight which the public are not often called upon to witness was seen in this city yesterday afternoon Officers Yates and Cote ran arrested two boys on Front street near Main who were so intoxicated as to be scarcely able to stand alone When found these boys were using the most fearful oaths and imprecations and conducting themselves in a disorderly manner They were accordingly taken into custody and conducted to jail These boys are aged respectively 12 and 1 years Out of respect to their parents we suppress the names of the arrested parties They obtained the liquor with which they became drunk from a saloon at the corner of Main and Front streets The person who sold those boys the liquor was aged about 17 years He was also arrested for selling liquor to minors under 18 years and lodged in jail The younger one of the boys arrested for intoxication it is stated has not been home for a week, and all efforts of the parents to ascertain his whereabouts have been fruitless This is certainly a picture over which the angels might weep These offenders and the offences committed are of a class which is beyond the common law if the land to reach Jail reformation is a thing utterly impracticable The penalties inflicted, instead of inculcating a wholesome respect and fear of the law only render these youthful culprits more abandoned hardened and reckless Clearly there is a case which requires something more than the strong hand of the law to effect a reformation A Reform School properly conducted is the only institution which offers a remedy It is the cheapest, best, most humane and only solution of the vexed question of "What shall we do with our boys?" The case of these boys will be considered in the Police Court this morning

MORE CONCERNING THE MURDER —To our Vancouver correspondent we are indebted for the following additional facts concerning the discovery of the body of Chas Nelson, supposed to be murdered The coroner who held the inquest states that he extracted fifteen large buckshot from Nelson's body and was satisfied as many more remained No valuables were found upon his person Upon repairing to the house of deceased he found everything in order except his trunk which had evidently been hurriedly searched A valuable silver mounted Henry rifle which deceased was known to have possessed was missing Strong suspicions rest upon parties who are not yet under arrest and their names are withheld for the present

The following is the verdict of the jury summoned to hold an inquest over the remains

We, the jury, after being duly sworn proceeded to examine the body of deceased, and find it to be one Charles Nelson, found by John Walsky on the 21st January 1873 The jury find that he came to his death by a gun shot from the hands of an unknown person The shot was received in the back just under the left shoulder blade There were fifteen buck shot picked out from under the left breast D H RUSSELL

BAD ECONOMY —Economy is a good thing when judiciously practiced, but it sometimes happens that persons carry it to a penny wise and pound foolish extreme. Yesterday a gentleman of his city had some heavy cases of dry goods to remove from one portion of the city to another The gentleman to be economical and avoid in curring unnecessary expense as he thought desired to have all the goods hauled at once There were plenty of drays and trucks which he could employ but he chose to employ a small express wagon because the dray would cost him half a dollar and the express half that sum He piled all the cases on the express at one time To make the boxes secure, he lashed them on with ropes When the driver had passed several blocks he had to cross a muddy stretch of road In doing this, one of the largest boxes came loose by the heavy lurches of the vehicle and rolled off into the mud and water Before the case could be extricated its contents were well saturated with water, so that it became necessary for the goods to be taken from the box and repacked in a dry one The damage incurred would have paid for half a dozen wagon loads The most economical plan to have been pursued in this instance was to employ several express wagons, or allowed the one engaged to have made more than one load

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS —The fact was noted several weeks since that an effort was being made to organize a Lodge of the above Order in this city Several meetings were held by members of the Order who reside in Portland, to canvass the prospects, and if indications were favorable to the project, to take preliminary steps toward the institution of a Lodge A petition was forwarded to the members of the Grand Lodge asking for a dispensation and charter to be granted for the institution of a Lodge in Portland which was to be known as Excelsior Lodge, No 1 K of P The petition was signed by about forty persons a majority of whom are already members of the Order, and the remainder express a willingness to become members A few days ago a dispensation was received granting the institution of a Lodge On Monday evening next a Lodge will be instituted A charter and the Grand Chancellor are shortly expected to arrive from below, and the Lodge will soon thereafter be organized officially and established on a permanent basis

THE REFORM SCHOOL —Under the caption of "A Much Needed Institution" the Advocate says "Much has been well said and written concerning the necessity and advantages of a Reform School in our midst for the benefit of perverse and idle youth Nothing as yet that we know of has been done practically for its establishment The County Commissioners, we understand are ready to give twenty five acres of land near the city limits for such an institution Why do let the city authorities appropriate in money an amount equal to the value of the lands, for the erection of suitable buildings thereon, for the commencement of the enterprise? Self protection demands some action on the part of the city at once, and we know of nothing better than this joint action of the county and city'

WHAT NEXT —The juvenile mind of Portland is continually in a state of ferment trying to discover some specie of deviltry that will be 'fun for the boys,' but an annoyance to grown up people At one time it was toot horns, then things, next "devils fiddle," and now the latest invention of the enemy of adults is to pelt houses and windows with little balls of clay This interesting sport—to the boys only—is practised principally by the young hoodlums in the suburban districts of the city Against whatever object the balls are projected, they adhere and it is with considerable difficulty that they are removed after becoming dry and hard These boys will confer a favor by informing the public what will be the next affliction

CHINESE NEW YEAR —The Chinese portion of our community are making extensive preparations to celebrate their New Year, which will begin on next Monday and continue through three days and nights consecutively Permission will probably be granted them by the Chief of Police to fire off as many bombs and crackers as they shall desire, and also to punish sensitive tympanums in the way of gongs drums and cymbals to their heart's content Our barbarous American people can never properly appreciate these highly civilized and refined customs of this ancient race It is hoped that daily contact and constant association with these people may at length elevate our degraded tastes up to the standard of these disciples of Confucius

VIOLENT —The man Carroll, who was arrested in this city several times on the account of violent and half crazy conduct, and finally sent to the asylum, is reported to be the most violent and intractable person confined in that institution He is so turbulent that scarcely anything can be done with him To be able to control him at all, the Superintendent is compelled to keep him in durance, and at times he becomes so violent that he is put in the straight jacket On one occasion Carroll escaped from his keeper and before he could be secured again he ran his head through a window cutting his face shockingly His case seems to be one devoid of hope

HOME MANUFACTURES —We most decidedly endorse the principle of patronizing home manufactures, and we refer the bread eating population of Portland and vicinity, to the mills of Messrs McLaren & Steel, where everything that is made by grinding grain is furnished to order and of the best quality The capacity of the mill is about 1,500 barrels extra flour per month in ten hours a day running time In addition to this they turn out large quantities of graham flour, corn and oat meal, chopped feed etc etc, as demanded The latest modern improvements of mill machinery are used by them and the quality of their products are unsurpassed.

STILL DETAINED —The ship Victoria Nyanza is still detained at Astoria, unable to cross the bar.

THE OTHER SIDE —On Wednesday morning we mentioned a case of sharp practice by a green grocer who it was stated had taken up a subscription for a person injured at the time of the fire and appropriated the proceeds consisting of groceries and coin to pay a debt the injured man owed him We have received a statement signed by the injured man in which he contradicts the version we published of the case and says the groceries were taken to his own house and that the money—$5—was paid for necessaries to supply the wants of his family during his inability to work This the other side We hope all parties will now be satisfied

FIRST + NATIVE —Mr Abr ms the barkeeper at the Webfoot saloon is the owner of a New foundland dog which boasts of the possession of five legs The hind legs of the animal are not perfect and well developed and also the left fore leg The right fore leg however is divided near the shoulder and two imperfectly developed legs are in the place of one The dog cannot bear any weight on the two deformed legs and locomotes on three legs Both the double legs have bones and joints like any other limb but the toes end in a sort of club foot The dog is about three months old In the way of deformities it is a perfect curiosity

RELIGIOUS INTEREST —Protracted meetings have been held at the Taylor Street M E Church for several weeks An unusual degree of religious interest has been awakened during the progress of the meetings On Monday evening last three persons joined the Church on probation and four by letter Special meetings have been held for the promotion of the cause of religion with very great and valuable results This is doubtless so far as the Church is concerned the most thorough and genuine revival of religion ever experienced in this city

A LARGE PI —Yesterday morning while a portion of the job office of A G Walling was being removed to the second story of H L Pittock's brick building on Front street several cases of type slid from the first landing of the stairs to the sidewalk A large sized pi was made in just about two seconds of time The damage was slight compared with what it might have been If more cases were in the slide This is the only instance we have heard of where type has fallen and all parties concerned have sustained a loss

EXAMINED.—Lem, the Chinaman who was sent to the county jail some days ago, supposed to be bordering on a state of dementation, was examined yesterday by Judge Hamilton and the examining physician He was adjudged insane, and an order committing him to the asylum was issued This unfortunate fellow is not noisy nor violent He will set for hours at a time his head bent down on his breast, not moving nor speaking to any one

MONEY DRIFT —During the year ending Dec 31, 1872 the following shipments of treasure were made from the office of Wells, Fargo & Co, in this city

Gold Coin	$1 616 506 17
Silver	52 60 04
Currency	308 428 28
Bullion	824 209 50
Total	$2 803 052 88

SAD MISHAP —A young gentleman, rather gorgeously arrayed in "store clothes," who apparently did not understand the mode of making an exit from street cars, in jumping from a car opposite Wells Fargo & Co's office yesterday afternoon failed to alight in the proper way, and the result was that the aforesaid youth's good clothes presented anything but an attractive appearance after he arose from the muddy street

NEW WHARF —Mr C M Carter will build on his property at the foot of Alder street a wharf with two floors, the size of which will be 75x100 About fifteen feet space will be left between the wharf and the brick structures, which are also in contemplation for the accommodation of dray men and others In all probability the St Helens Mill Company will occupy the new wharf

IN WORKING TRIM —The telegraphic fire signal, an account of which was given in yesterday's issue, is now in complete running condition, with battery etc, attached It was set up yesterday by Mr Guild, at the engine house of Multnomah No 2 where it can be seen by any one who may wish to call and witness its practical operations

FOR MONTICELLO —The steamer Oneonta will carry 100 head of cattle from the Cascades to Monticello this evening She will probably be met at the mouth of the river by the Rescue and the passengers and freight transferred from one steamer to the other The Oneonta will then proceed on to her destination

WENT UP THE RIVER —The steamer Calliope having been overhauled and inspected by the proper officials made her first regular trip up the river yesterday morning She steamed up the river at a good rate against the wind and current This steamer will soon take the line between this port and McMinnville

CURIOSITIES —Messrs Weldon & Pilkman at the Germania Saloon, are the recipients of two pairs of Chamois horns, also a pair of "Spellhorn" tails, a species of the feathery kingdom from a friend in Germany The expense of transportation of these trifles was simply immense—only $14 3, coin

DERANGED —Mrs Sarah Nichols was before the County Court yesterday to be examined for insanity The further examination of the unfortunate woman was deferred until to day, to obtain more evidence as to cause of insanity

BOTH LOADING —Both the brig Orient and Perpetua, are receiving cargo down the river The former is loading at Astoria with iron, and the latter at Cementville with lumber These vessels are both bound for San Francisco

AT KALAMA —The bark Free Trade is now at Kalama She arrived there yesterday in tow of the tug Merrimac The bark came in ballast Her cargo to San Francisco will consist of stave bolts

WILL SAIL —The steamer Ajax is announced to sail from this port for San Francisco to morrow at 12 o clock M She will carry away a large freight and a number of passengers

AMUSEMENTS.

The fourth rendition of "School" at Oro Fino Theater last evening, drew a crowded house

Mr Samuel Piercy the popular and talented actor will be the recipient of a complimentary benefit at Oro Fino Theater this evening A capital bill will be offered on the occasion The performance will commence with the third act of "Othello" This will be followed by the drama of "The Old Guard" after which "The Beautiful Snow" by Mr Piercy the parody of "Pootifull Schnow" by W C Crosbie The entertainment will conclude with the comedy of "The Timid Lover"

One of the most brilliant and fashionable surprise parties of the season assembled at the residence of Col John McCraken, Seventh street, on the north end, on Wednesday evening, the company on the occasion being large and composed of the beauty and elite of the city The delightful manner in which the company were entertained and the real pleasure experienced by all those present is the best possible evidence of the success attending the efforts of the managers in this respect The toilets of the ladies displayed artistic taste and beauty, exceeding anything of the kind heretofore witnessed by us Prof Cordes and prompter Graham, furnished the music and figure calling The surprise was given under the auspices of young men who have shown an energetic spirit in making the affairs they manage a success in every instance We present the following partial list of ladies in attendance

Mesdames Dr H—b Peter B—y G L De P—s J R F—r, E C—tt, W J V—r W P D—d Dr R/G—n D H—y, E G R—ll, Theo W—t — S—n Von C—k W W Up—n Misses Angie H—y — B—y Hattie B—n Addie A—d, — H—t — Up—n — S—g

The ladies were accompanied by gallant gentlemen who were all attentive to the wants of the fair sex

ONCE MORE ON THE TRACK —C M Martin has settled down to business again He occupies that commodious room at the northeast corner of First and Yamhill streets Of course it is understood that the stock of Groceries he has opened is large and excellent in every particular If you can't get what you want at his place then there is no use looking for the desired article He will be ready and waiting upon the numerous customers that are sure to flock to his place to buy Don't forget the new Store when you pass up First street to-day

The court adjourned till Thursday

JAIL FEVER —One of the most malignant types of the disease known to humanity—jail fever a variety of typhus—has broken out in San Francisco County Jail The disease was first thoroughly studied in the last century in London on the occasion of its appearance in Newgate Prison Since then important contributions to its medical treatment have been made by American practitioners Of the prisoners then confined in that institution a large number were attacked and died The contemporary session of the Court was known as the Black Assize when 300 persons died among them the Judge jury, several of the lawyers and other officers of the Court Since that date many other communities have felt the scourge with more or less severity The fever is contagious and the most potent aid to its diffusion is crowding and imperfect ventilation Cities which have once suffered from its attack display great energy in crushing out its first appearance The individuals attacked are promptly segregated from others, the excretions from their bodies carefully removed and disposed of so that they may not disseminate the disease, the infected premises thoroughly disinfected Small pox or cholera is scarcely more to be dreaded than this jail type of typhus fever Thus far not only have all the proper measures been neglected by the authorities of San Francisco, but the fever breeding conditions under which the disease was developed have been allowed to continue in all their malignant activity The jail is crowded to its utmost capacity greatly overcrowded, in fact, according to the least stringent rules of healthful occupancy The last Grand Jury called attention to this state of affairs, but, as it is too often the case in municipal administration, nothing was done until a disease, which has repeatedly proved a dreadful scourge, had been fairly developed —Sacramento Record.

One morning during the late war an officer riding through the woods of North Alabama was attracted by a tall, lank countryman, who seemed to be using his best endeavors to reach the top of a large hickory tree Scarcely had he gained the summit, when rapidly descending, he started up another tree a few yards farther off This strange proceeding has continued at least a dozen times, the countryman climbing and descending one tree after another for nearly a quarter of an mile The officer, at length overtaking him, inquired the cause of his eccentric gyrations

"Wal, stranger," he answered, "I was lyin asleep under yon hickory when a darned squirrel dropped a shell bark into my eye I'm going' to worry him till he leaves the settlement, if I die in the attempt"

Three negroes employed on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, persisted in using nitroglycerine to hasten their fire At last their little cabin was found to be missing, and there is much speculation in the neighborhood as to the present whereabouts of the negroes

According to a Texas paper, the establishment of cotton factories in that State is becoming very general

A French chemist fuses aluminum with borax and thus produces as good rubies and emeralds as can be found in Arizona

What the Season Suggests

To assume warm clothing at the commencement of the cold season is only an act of common prudence. But something more than this is required to put the body in a state of defense against the searching atmosphere of winter Dampness has a depressing effect on the vital organs and the animal spirits The amount of life power taken out of the strongest of us by the chilling vapors which frequently load the air at this period of the year is very considerable and to the weak and languid they are extremely deleterious To protect the system against their effects it must be inwardly toned, regulated and reinforced as well as shielded outwardly by appropriate garments This essential service is more safely and satisfactorily accomplished by the daily use of Hostetter's Bitters than by any other means within the province of medical science The fact here stated is as incontrovertible as a demonstration in mathematics Nobody disputes it It is a matter of common belief and of general record Here the case might be rested; but the public naturally enough, wants to know why this famous vegetable specific is so far ahead of all other medicines of its class This reasonable curiosity can be readily gratified The Bitters comprise five important elements, viz a stimulant a tonic an aperient, and a blood depurent Each of these components as well as each of the other subordinate ingredients is the purest and best of its kind They are proportioned in accordance with a formula that has been in use for twenty years and operate harmoniously and simultaneously Hence the uniform success of the medicine

The Lodge of Sorrow

A singular and very beautiful ceremony took place last night at Irving Hall, being the opening of a Lodge of Sorrow under the auspices of the Ancient and Accepted Rite of Masonry of New York and Brooklyn. Most of the officiating brethren ranked in the thirty third degree of Masonry, and a large and very select audience of ladies and gentlemen, invited guests, occupied all the space in the hall not devoted to the ceremonial. The gallery of the hall was heavily draped in mourning, and at intervals on the walls were suspended emblematic banners in crimson and gold. In the center of the floor was erected a catafalque, upon the upper tier of which was placed a coffin. The catafalque was wreathed with acacia sprays and laurel, cypress and other plants were placed at the corners of the dais, at the foot of pillars bearing candelabra. At the further end of the hall was a platform, having on it a table with an open Bible, sceptre and other tools used in

WORKING THE THIRTY SECOND DEGREE

Between the foot of the platform and the catafalque were five large Gothic chairs, and still nearer to the catafalque were a table, bearing shew bread and wine, and a horned altar. An orchestra of sixty pieces, under the leadership of Brother Downing, and a chorus of some thirty voices furnished the music. Precisely at eight o clock the doors were closed, and the officers of the Lodge, consisting of C T McClenachan, thirty-third degree, Wilson Small, thirty third degree, John W. Simons, thirty third degree W V Alexander, thirty-third degree George A Barney thirty third degree C Roome, thirty third degree, and C B Conant, thirty third degree entered and ascended the platform, the orchestra playing a march from "Athalie" After some remarks by Brother McClenachan in reference to the object of the Lodge the chorus gave a chant, "Put Us Not to Rebuke" The Lodge was then opened in ample form A basso solo, "O Weep Not, Mourn Not," was sung by J. G Lumbard, and the orator of the evening, Past Grand Master John W Simons, was introduced, and made touching the beauties of the philosophy of death and the resurrection Brother W. H Davis then sung a basso solo, "Truth Dawns Upon the Human Soul," with oboe obligato. While the solo was being rendered four brethren dressed in white, with red sashes and blue chaplets, entered, carrying baskets of flowers. They approached the steps of the catafalque and knelt with heads bowed on the coffin, then arose and strewed flowers on the casket and bier. They then made obeisance and retired, and at a signal from a gong the lights in the hall were extinguished, the orchestra striking up a march—Tenebre The funeral procession then slowly and with well-timed steps entered the hall, and was composed of twenty torch-bearers dressed in white, with crimson sashes and silver-plated frontlets. These marched two abreast and were preceded by the lieutenants of the captain of the guard, attired in black, with frontlets, crimson sash and apron and reversed swords.

THE PROCESSION

marched around the catafalque, and on reaching the foot of the casket marched between the altar and the shew bread. The column then separated into single file, passed down on each side of the coffin. Next came a second procession of twenty, bearing torches and preceded by a priest, two prelates and two assistant prelates, the captain of the guard and six mourners and bearers, and an acolyte, with a swinging censer of incense. These marched about the catafalque as the former company had done and halted, so that the white and black costumed torchbearers alternated, and the priest and prelates were at their places near the chairs at the foot of the platform,

THE CAPTAIN OF THE GUARD

at a marble pillar near the priest's chair, and his lieutenants at the flanks of the columns of torch-bearers. The music ceased, and the censer-bearer kindled a fire on the altar. The priest (General J. H. H. Ward) then offered up a very impressive prayer, to which the prelates at its close responded, "So mote it be." The priest and his assistants then read the lesson, consisting of a series of brief Scriptural sentences, to each of which the chorus responded "Haste Thee to Help Us." The priest then advanced to the catafalque and delivered a funeral address, which was followed by a tenor solo and chorus, "Cease Ye Mourners," by Messrs. Millard, Hill and Mallitt, during which, at a signal given by Captain of the Guard, George W. Millar, thirty-third degree, consisting of two blows with his sword on the marble pillar, the torch-bearers countermarched. The priest, still standing at the foot of uttered another sentence, and at another similar signal the procession again countermarched. A prayer was then delivered by one of the prelates, and then all the torch-bearers, ranged on each side of the catafalque, were seated. These evolutions, in a varied form with other ecclesiastical offices, were repeated several times, and then the entire procession closed up to the catafalque. The six bearers then took the casket, and while the gong tolled solemnly, the coffin was borne from the catafalque towards a tomb with tessellated front and black doors erected at the end of the hall. Here the priest and prelates accompanied it, and the coffin was placed on the ground at the open gates of the mausoleum. Meantime a funeral march was being played and the gong still struck its solemn notes on the air as while an admonition and prayer were pronounced by the priest, to which all again responded, "So mote it be." The casket was then borne into the tomb, and the chorus sung, "Weep No More." A farewell was then pronounced by one of the prelates, Walter M. Fleming, thirty-third degree, and the processionists, in twos, alternatively black and white, retired from the hall. The gas was turned on, all was bright again, and the ceremony was concluded by the singing of the "prayer" from "Moses" and the benediction by Wilson Small.

The services were decidedly weird, beautiful and impressive and were very successfully conducted. To those unacquainted with the object of this singular ceremony it may be necessary to state that they were memorial services in honor of those of the Ancient Accepted Rite of Masonry who have died during the past year. The form is peculiar to this Order, and so far as it and the costumes are based upon any historic traditions or customs, they resemble those of the days of King Solomon.—N. Y Herald, Dec 28

Too Much Credit

Mr. Keeno, a shrewd and thrifty farmer of Allenborough, owned a large flock of sheep, and one autumn, when it came housing time, he was greatly annoyed upon missing some of his finest muttons, among them three or four wethers he had raised and fattened for his own table. He was sure it was not the work of dogs, and the most he could do was to await further developments.

On the following spring, when his sheep were turned out to pasture, he instituted a careful watch, and ere long he detected Tom Stickney, a neighboring farmer, in the act of pilfering a sheep, but he made no noise about it at the time Stickney was a man well to do, and Keeno did not care to expose him.

Autumn came again, and upon counting up his flock, Mr. Keeno found eight sheep missing. He made out a bill in due form to Thomas Stickney for the eight sheep, and presented it. Stickney choked and stammered, but did not back down. Like a prudent man he paid the bill and pocketed the receipt.

Another spring time came, and Mr. Keene's sheep were again turned out. Another autumn came, and the farmer again took an account of his stock, and this time fifteen sheep were missing. As before he made out the bill to Tom Stickney for the whole number missing, but this time Tom objected.

"It's too much of a good thing," said he. "Fifteen sheep! Why, bless your soul, I hadn't had a fifth part of 'em."

Mr. Keeno was inexorable.

"There is the bill," said he, "and I have made it out in good faith. I have made no fuss when my sheep have been missing, because I deemed your credit good and sufficient"

"Well," groaned Tom with a big gulp, "I suppose I must pay, but," he added emphatically, "we'll close that account from this time You have given me too much credit altogether—some other rascal has been stealing on the strength of it"—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, [illegible]

During the first week in January there was paid out, at least [illegible] by the United States authority, in the United States the amount of $40,000,000 [illegible] which ought materially to have relieved the money market The sources from which this sum should have come were the following: The interest of the interest-bearing debt was [illegible] $2,000,000 of this was due to holders of bonds in this country. Dividends at banks and other stocks to be at least $4,000,000 in New York city alone In Boston, not including public debt, at least $1,000,000. January dividends on railroad stock $20,000,000 and the dividends on local stock in the various cities of the Union should have made up the first amounts named and we have a right to anticipate that with the pressing demand for currency for the last month or so and the high rate offered for it, that a large portion of these items would have been already set afloat. But we are not yet feeling—materially—the relief anticipated by the unlocking of so much in a short time

Alaska Furs

The following is from the New York Mercantile Journal of January 4th 187[illegible]:

Alaska Sable has for several years been in good demand but when the true nature of the fur generally became known and it was found to be Skunk, it rapidly declined in value and its popularity from the wane By repeated experiments furriers were enabled to overcome its pungent odor for a time, but on contact with hot weather it returns. Its offensive properties and greatly operates against its use. Only prime black skins of the Winter catch are in demand

An exchange, commenting on the above, says: "It is calculated to mislead the uninformed and in a measure detract from the importance of our Russian Possessions as regards the Fur trade We would state on the authority of the Alaska Commercial Company, that the Skunk is not one of the products of that country but is found in sections not far off, and its fur enters largely into the export trade In Alaska are found Mink, Marten, Beaver, Otter, Red Fox, White, Cross and Silver Fox, and Fur and Hair Seals The Hair Seals are obtained along the coast and the Fur animal at St Paul and St George Islands The Marten of Alaska is about the same as the Russian Sable, except in price, and is the black or dark skin referred to in the article above quoted The Marten in Summer is quite light and the pelt wooly, but during the Fall and Winter months it is very dark, nearly black, and the value is thus greatly increased.

Home Produce Market

The proposition which has been advanced by the Commercial Herald that, "whether direct shipments from Portland be maintained successfully in the future is a matter open to some doubt," is one which will probably cause some men in our midst a great deal of astonishment especially those who have been engaged in this business for years Our California friends are much mistaken if they think Oregon has no use for anything now that the "two railroads have reached points beyond which it is not deemed profitable to extend them at present," for the regular amount of imports will be required any way, and it is now likely that more railroad material will probably enter the mouth of the Columbia river within the next three years than has for the same length of time in the past The two railroads referred to will probably be continued and the North Pacific Company will build hundreds of miles the material for which will be brought via the Columbia. There is no reason to doubt that the call for inward bound tonnage will be as great hereafter as heretofore, while outward bound will be still more in demand One more assertion in the article we are willing to attribute to a little prejudice on the part of our California brothers, and that is that "Oregon wheat is this year somewhat inferior to that of California." It is true that one or two small lots of wheat have found their way into market here which were in bad condition; but our general crop has been good, and judges from California of long experience pronounce it A 1

After thoroughly canvassing our market to-day, we deem the quotations for produce generally to be as given below.

WHEAT—In reviewing our markets this week, we find but meager matter for the foundation of comment. Last week closed with the decline and producers had ceased selling, while buyers were equally indifferent about purchasing at even the reduced rate of $1 70, and the same state of feeling continues. There have been but few transactions noted, and these have been mostly for terms reserved. Our farmer friends who declined to sell when the price reached the maximum, about ten days ago will not have us to blame if they should now be compelled to keep their supplies over another harvest, or accept less than has been offered. We should be sorry to see wheat take a further downward turn, and hardly think it will, but from all present indications we see no good ground to predict that it will go higher than it has been The uncertainty as to the future of the market is not only felt here, but is shared by dealers of large experience in California. We have seen a private letter from one of them in San Francisco, received here yesterday which says, "The future of wheat is all dark. Were only a few of the vessels at San Francisco in our port and unengaged, no doubt they would be quickly taken and laden, but as they are not, and the competition in the carrying trade hence is so slight, we will be compelled to bide our time The usual quotation for the week has been $1 70 per cental, delivered here in sacks, and we deem it about fair to-day, though choice round lots might command a trifling advance.

FLOUR—There is but little activity manifested in our market just now, owing to the apparent dullness in San Francisco Though the advance noted two weeks ago is still maintained, there is no material animation in trade. The supply on hand is fair, not because of any unusual production, but because the demand is light. A business letter to a milling firm in this city, from their agent in San Francisco, says Flour is piling up there and "but few sales of consequence are being made." There is more money in selling Wheat than in making it into Flour We continue our quotations of $5 50 for standard brands of extra, $4 25@5 for outside and country, and $4 for superfine Some fair country brands have sold during the week for $4 12½ per bbl, but this was rather below the market though inferior brands are quite dull Buckwheat is quotable firm at 6½c per pound in 10 lb sacks, and 5½ in 60 pound sacks. Oatmeal is in fair supply and quotations of jobbing rates is $6 per bale of one hundred pounds Graham, at $5 25 @5 50 per barrel is in good demand and well supplied Cornmeal is quotable at $3 75 per 100 lbs. Hominy, $5 per bales of 100 pounds

OATS—Prices continue to rule steady with a tendency upward The receipts of the week have averaged very fair and the stock on hand is quite large compared with last week Dealers are confident in this cereal, and as the crop harvested was small as to acreage there is but little reason to doubt that prices will continue firm until seed time is fairly over We quote 60@62½ as jobbers' buying rates. The demand is quite fair, but not unusually active

BARLEY—The market is nearly barren of offers as well as buyers. Quotations are nominal at $1 40@1 50 per 100 pounds. The markets from whence come the general demand here are dull, and the entire season has been dull except the requirements for brewers' use

FEED—The supply is short and prices are stiff. The scarcity is doubtless produced by the fact that mills are running on shorter time than usual, owing to the dull flour market and the late upward fluctuation in wheat Bran is firm at $16@19 ꝑ ton; shorts, $27, middlings, chops etc, $30@32

HAY—The market is moderately well supplied, and the lateness in the season has the usual effect to bring in quantities which have been held back, so that prices are weak We quote good timothy at $18@20 Wild hay is almost unsaleable at $10 ꝑ ton.

POTATOES—As in many other articles we are compelled to quote with a wide margin Our grocers say the kidney is the most saleable for home consumption, and command the maximum, which is 40c ꝑ bushel Others are quotable at 35@38c

ONIONS—The receipts of the last few days have not been large, but there is a tolerably fair supply on hand We hear offered 2¼@2½c ꝑ lb But few shipments are being made

APPLES—We quote the price from wagons of common lots at 75@90c ꝑ box, without boxes Including boxes choice qualities command 1 75@2 00c ꝑ box, principally for shipping

BUTTER—The market is devoid of change The supply of inferior qualities is far beyond any demand, and the quotations of that class of the article would doubtless astonish the reader We were informed to day that a large lot had been sold for 11 cents per pound, and there are lots in this city for which no offer could be had at any price. The only article in demand is fancy dairy which is firm at our former quotations.

CHEESE—Choice Oregon made is quotable at 16 cents; Eastern, 18c; California best 17c.

EGGS—Like the article of butter, bad lots have damaged the trade, and figures are ruling very low Dealers will not pay more than 18@20 cents per dozen. The market is full POULTRY—Choice lots of chickens are in demand at $4 50@5 per dozen The supply during the past few days has considerably declined.

HIDES—The demand is quite active and prices are well maintained We quote green at 6@6½, salted, 7½ and dry at 15@16 cents per pound

WOOL—Last year's clip is nearly all off first hands and receipts are few. We quote, as to quality at 20@25 cts per pound.

BACON—The receipts are increasing and there is some activity manifested in the market Country cured hams are fairly quotable at 14@16 cents per pound sides, 14 shoulders 10@11 cents per pound Choice lots of either would command a trifling advance

Form of Proposal, Guarantee and Certificate

Proposal

The undersigned ___ whose postoffice address is ___, county of ___, State of ___, proposes to convey the mails of the United States from July 1, 1873, to June 30, 1874, on route No ___, between ___ and ___, under the advertisement of the Postmaster General, dated December 1 1872, "with celerity, certainty and security" (law of June 8, 1872), for the annual sum of ___ dollars.

This proposal is made with full knowledge of the distance of the route, the weight of the mail to be carried, and all other particulars in reference to the route and service, and, also, after careful examination of the laws and instructions attached to advertisements of mail service, and of the provisions contained in the Act of Congress of June 8, 1872.

Dated ___, Bidder

Guarantee.

The undersigned, residing at ___, State of ___, undertake that if the foregoing bid for carrying the mail on route No ___ be accepted by the Postmaster General, the bidder will prior to the 1st of June 187 enter into the required obligation, or contract, to perform the service proposed, with good and sufficient sureties.

This we do understanding distinctly the obligations and liabilities assumed by guarantors

Dated

Certificate

The undersigned, postmaster at ___, State of ___ certifies under his oath of office that he is acquainted with the above guarantors, and knows them to be men of property and able to make good their guarantee, and that bidder and guarantors are above the age of 21 years

Bids of $5,000 and upward must be accompanied by a certified check, or draft, on some solvent national bank, equal to 5 per centum on the present annual pay on the route, or in case of new service not less than 5 per centum of the year's pay proposed in bid —Section 251 Act of June 8 1872

The Postmaster must not sign the certificate until the sum of the bid is inserted and the bid and guarantee signed by all the parties, and dated

Oath required by Section 246 of an Act of Congress Approved June 8, 1872, to be affixed to each Bid for carrying the Mail, and to be taken before an Officer Qualified to Administer Oaths.

I ___, of ___, bidder for conveying the mail on route No ___, from ___ to ___, do swear that I have the ability pecuniarily to fulfill my obligation as such bidder, that the bid is made in good faith, and with the intention to enter into contract and perform the service in case said bid shall be accepted, and that the signatures of the guarantors thereto are genuine, and that I believe the said guarantors to be pecuniarily responsible for and able to pay all damages the United States shall suffer by reason of my failing to perform my obligations as such bidder.

Sworn to and subscribed before me ___, for the ___ of ___, this ___ day of ___, A. D 187 , and in testimony thereof I hereunto subscribe my name and affix my official seal the day and year aforesaid.

[SEAL]

NOTE—When the oath is taken before a Justice of the peace, the certificate of the clerk of a court of record should be added, under his seal of office, that the person who administered the oath is a duly qualified Justice of the peace.

Instructions to Bidders and Postmasters

Containing also conditions to be incorporated in the Contracts to the extent the Department may deem proper.

1. Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails

2 On routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags, locks and keys are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3 "Way bills" or receipts prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the Department, will accompany the mails, specifying the number and destination of the several bags to be examined by the postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of bags and pouches.

4. No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions, if the failure be occasioned by the fault of the contractor or carrier, three times the pay of the trip will be deducted For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture For repeated delinquencies of the kind herein specified, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof, and the importance of the mail, may be made.

5. For leaving behind or throwing off the mails, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being concerned in setting up or running an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted.

6. Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons, for failing to arrive in contract time; for neglecting to take the mail from, or deliver it into, a postoffice; for suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed, or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running, a coach, car, or steamboat on a route.

7. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract, for violating the postoffice laws, or disobeying the instructions of the Department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department to do so; for running an express as aforesaid; or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail,

8. The Postmaster General may order an increase of service on a route by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may change schedules to departure and arrivals in all cases, and particularly to make them conform to connections with railroads, without increase of pay, provided the running time be not abridged The Postmaster General may also discontinue or curtail the service, in whole or in part, in order to place on the route superior service, or whenever the public interests, in his judgment, shall require such discontinuance or curtailment for any other cause, he allowing as full indemnity to contractor, one month's extra pay on the amount of service dispensed with, and a pro rata compensation for the amount of service retained and continued.

9. Payments will be made by collections from, or drafts on, postmasters or otherwise, after the expiration of each quarter—say in November, February, May, and August, provided that required evidence of service has been received.

10. The distances given are believed to be substantially correct; but no increased pay will be allowed should they be greater than advertised, if the points to be supplied are correctly stated Bidders must inform themselves on this point, and also in reference to the weight of the mail, the condition of hills, roads, streams, &c, and all toll bridges, turnpikes plank-roads, ferries, or obstructions of any kind by which expense may be incurred. No claim for additional pay, based on such ground, can be considered; nor for alleged mistakes or misapprehension as to the degree of service, nor for bridges destroyed, ferries discontinued, or other obstructions causing or increasing distance or expense occurring during the contract term Offices established after this advertisement is issued, and also during the contract term, are to be visited without extra pay, if the distance be not increased.

11. Bidders are cautioned to mail their proposals in time to reach the Department by the day and hour named (3 p. m , March 3, 1873), for bids received after that time will not be considered in competition with bids, of reasonable amount, received in time Neither can bids be considered which are without the guarantee required by law, and a certificate of the sufficiency of such guarantee, and the oath of the bidder according to section 246, act of June 8, 1872.

12. Bidders should first propose for service strictly according to the advertisement, and then, if they desire, separately for different service; and if the regular bid be the lowest offered for the advertised service, the other propositions may be considered.

13. There should be but one route bid for in a proposal. Consolidated or combination bids ("proposing one sum for two or more routes") cannot be considered

14 The route, the service, the yearly pay, the name and residence of the bidder (that is, his usual postoffice address), and the name of each member of the firm, where a company offers, should be distinctly stated.

15 Bidders are requested to use, as far as practicable the printed proposals furnished by the Department, to write out in full the sum of their bids, and to retain copies of them

Altered bids should not be submitted; nor should bids once submitted be withdrawn. No withdrawal of a bidder or guarantor will be allowed unless the withdrawal is received twenty-four hours previous to the time fixed for opening the proposals

Each bid must be guaranteed by two responsible persons. The bid and guarantee should be signed plainly with the full name of each person.

The Postmaster General reserves the right to reject any bid which may be deemed extravagant; and also to disregard the bids of failing contractors and bidders. (Act of June 8, 1872, section 249)

16. The bid should be sealed, superscribed "Mail Proposals, State of Oregon," addressed "Second Assistant Postmaster General, Contract Office" and sent by mail, not by or to an agent Bids of $5,000 per annum and upward must be accompanied by a certified check or on some solvent national bank equal to 5 per cent of the amount (See law of Congress of June 8, 1872)

17 The contracts are to be executed and returned to the Department by or before the 1st day of June, 1873, otherwise the accepted bidder will be considered as having failed and the Postmaster General may proceed to contract for the service with other parties, according to law.

Transfers of contracts, or of interest in contracts, are forbidden by law, and consequently cannot be allowed Neither can bids or interest in bids, be transferred or assigned to other parties Bidders will therefore take notice that they will be expected to perform the service awarded to them through the whole contract term.

18. Section 249 of the act of June 8, 1872, provides that contracts for the transportation of the mail shall be "awarded to the lowest bidder tendering sufficient guarantees for faithful performance, without other reference to the mode of such transportation than may be necessary to provide for the due celerity, certainty, and security thereof" Under this law bids that propose to transport the mails with "celerity, certainty, and security" having been decided to be the only legal bids, are construed as providing for the entire mail, however large, and whatever may be the mode of conveyance necessary to insure its "celerity, certainty, and security," and have the preference over all others, and no others are considered except for steamboat routes

19. A modification of a bid in any of its essential terms is tantamount to a new bid, and cannot be received, so as to interfere with regular competition Making a new bid, with guarantee and certificate, is the only way to modify a previous bid

20. Postmasters are to be careful not to certify to the sufficiency of guarantors without knowing that they are persons of sufficient responsibility (See Section 24, act of June 8, 1872) They must not sign the certificate until the sum of the bid is inserted, and the bid and guarantee are signed by the bidder and (two) guarantors, a disregard of this instruction by postmasters will subject them to immediate removal, and to severe penalties.

Postmasters are also liable to dismissal from office for acting as agents of contractors or bidders, with or without compensation, in any business, matter, or thing, relating to the mail service They are the trusted agents of the Department, and cannot consistently act in both capacities.

21. All bidders, guarantors and sureties are distinctly notified that on a failure to enter into or perform the contracts for the service proposed for in the accepted bids, their legal liabilities will be enforced against them

22. Present contractors, and persons known at the Department, must, equally with others, procure guarantors and certificates of their sufficiency substantially in the forms above prescribed The certificate of sufficiency must be signed by a postmaster

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co , a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary one of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

ADVERTISING

Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has rescued many a lost business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has preserved many a large business,
And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."
